

Newport News Restaurant Week Celebrates Its 5th Year in 2018

Event to be held for two weeks, from Jan. 20 through Feb. 3

Newport News, VA, Dec. 21, 2017 – Newport News Restaurant Week is back for its fifth year! In celebration of the 5th Annual Newport News Restaurant Week, five pricing options have been established: Diners will have their choice of a two-course lunch for $10 or $15, while dinner options include a three-course meal for $20, $30, or $40 (prices do not include tax or gratuity).

Though the event is called Newport News Restaurant Week, it is actually a two-week affair. The 2018 event runs from Jan. 20 through Feb. 3. Whether you decide to return to an old favorite or try something new, Newport News Restaurant Week offers something for every budget and taste bud!

As restaurants sign up to participate, their menus and other information will be added to the Restaurant Week website, so check back often for updates. As of Dec. 21, establishments offering a three-course dinner for $40 include Al Fresco Italian Restaurant, Circa 1918 Kitchen & Bar, and Fin Seafood Restaurant.

Those offering a three-course dinner for $30 include Al Fresco Italian Restaurant, Bonefish Grill, Cove Tavern, Fin Seafood Restaurant, Harpoon Larry's Fish House & Oyster Bar, Hayashi Sushi Grill, Kitchen 740 (inside the Newport News Marriott at City Center), The Melting Pot, Saffron Mediterranean Cuisine, Schlesinger's Steakhouse, Smoke BBQ Restaurant & Bar, Travinia Italian Kitchen & Wine Bar, and Tuscany Italian Ristorante.

Restaurants offering a $20 three-course dinner are Al Fresco Italian Restaurant, Cove Tavern, Crab Shack on the James, Rick & Libby's, Second Street Newport News, Travinia Italian Kitchen & Wine Bar, Tucanos Brazilian Grill, and Tuscany Italian Ristorante.
